

a 103 plane 393

Mar 25

Holly Lodge.
Campden Hill. Ill.

My dear Miss Mason/

I was on the brink writing to you when your letter came. The Conference was more interesting than ever. So many of the papers were excellent, that in only with reluctance one picks out W. Clement Parsons as most admirable & illuminating. I wish it could be published

as a pamphlet, as well as in the Review - I would gladly pay the expense of this if you or Mr. Parsons consented. It was so balanced, so wise, & so beautifully expressed,
indeed, such a library gem, that I feel it to be too much lost in the Review; - so many of the General Public would

1103P3 cmc 293
afternoon, but I read the account of it with great interest.
Holly Lodge.
Camden Hill. W.

Mr. Badley's paper was on I enjoyed greatly & I must not forget to tell you how good & practical the little lessons of the Students were, & how modestly & pleasantly
they were delivered.

The voice doesn't carry well in that hall & even Mr.

Badeley was imperfectly heard - indeed very imperfectly so it rather consoled me for the weakness of the young people's voices.
W. Parsons was an exception - everyone heard her.

It was most interesting to have your paper dear Finn Mason - it made me wish you could have been wafted by fairies to look down upon us all as we sat absorbed in listening. The whole tone of the conference

struck me - - we certainly beautified the "atmosphere" & we wish us
all, parents & children, to live in!

With affectionate regard

Ever sincerely yours

Emmal Winkworth

---

like to have it, I feel sure.
Do you remember Mr Henry Drummonds "The greatest thing in the world"? That was presented in white cover with gold lettering & I have a very pleasant recollection of the bringing up of an only child being in the same form.

It was a great pleasure to me to see all the members of the P. A. & U.

in the garden & I was thankful there was no rain, but alas it was sunless then afternoon tho' the day after was lovely & the Wed. report equally so. W<sup>m</sup>. Franklin, as usual, was a most admirable & capable director of all things & we all feel grateful to her for her very able management of our Branch.
I was not able, alas! to come to her discourse